We're proud of our long history of service to our communities.

For more than 100 years, Hawaiian Electric has provided the energy that has fueled our islands' development from a Hawaiian kingdom to a modern state. Hawaiian Electric serves 95 percent of Hawaii's people. With that great privilege comes great responsibility.

We have a shared kuleana to serve our customers, care for our communities, and lead the way to a clean energy future for our islands. This is why we are so focused on helping Hawaii achieve the most ambitious clean energy goals in the nation.

Today, we are providing cleaner, smarter and more reliable service for our customers. And we are committed to continuing our progress to meet our ambitious goals. In the end, we know the true measure of our success lies in the energy future we leave for generations to come.
